LONDON: THE ADDRESS THAT HOLDS ITS VALUE

INVESTOR STORY BRIEF | OCTOBER 2026

A concise guide for Nigerian investors considering UK property.

YOUR WEALTH DESERVES MORE THAN ONE HOME.

London may add a sterling-denominated asset, a mature ownership framework and a potential family base to a Nigerian wealth strategy. But capital growth is not guaranteed, and prime-address rental income can be

FOUR LONDON ADDRESSES

BERMONDSEY

Creative "Biscuit Town" with galleries, markets and start-ups. Three catalogue buildings: The Sugar Mill, The Malthouse and The Grainhouse. Tube/rail nearby; key universities about 30 minutes away; 10-year warranty.

WESTMINSTER TOWERS

River, London Eye and Parliament views. 24-hour concierge, fitness, screening and reading rooms, plus a private meeting room. Indicative 2-bed apartments are about 120 m2 with a winter garden.

RANSOME'S WHARF

Thames-side living with Chelsea galleries and dining across the river. A riverside setting; request the current unit schedule before comparing availability, pricing and total costs.

THE HEXON | NINE ELMS

36 storeys in Zone 1 beside Battersea Power Station. Northern Line about 3 minutes on foot; Battersea Power Station 1 stop; Waterloo about 6 minutes. Concierge, lounge, gym, screening room and 10-year warranty. The £15bn regeneration figure is developer-reported.

CHOOSE THE PROPERTY FOR THE RIGHT REASON

WHO IT MAY SUIT

Portfolio diversification, family education or a potential second base, and long-term legacy planning. Property ownership alone does not grant a UK visa, residency or citizenship. Sterling can also move against the naira and dollar.

INCOME REALITY

Prime rents rose just 1%year on year; a modelled Nine Elms 2-bed shows about 3.0%net yield. Gross yields exclude costs and tax. Treat rent as supplementary income, not the whole investment thesis.

BEFORE YOU COMMIT

Request a full cost sheet: SDLT, legal fees, service charge, ground rent and management. Use an independent solicitor to verify title, developer, contract and payment protections. Take UK/Nigerian tax advice; check source-of-funds and resale risks.

The place where everyone wishes they lived, Bermondsey is a neighbourhood with an independent rhythm that both small start-ups and titans of the food, arts and cultural world call home. A neighbourhood that feels and acts like a capital but with a fiercely loyal, tight-knit community

Tube and train on the doorstep makes commuting and exploring a breeze, but its proximity to the City makes it just as easy to grab a bike or walk. Plus, some of the best universities in the country are within an easy 30-minute commute

RISE AND SHINE

Once known affectionately as ‘Biscuit Town’, foodies from all over the capital flock to the many eateries, fine-dining spots, and global street-food stalls. But it’s not all food, as there’s a smorgasbord of other local cultural activities to nibble on.

WATCHHOUSE, BERMONDSEY STREET

You’re spoiled for choice for cafés on Bermondsey Street, but you won’t find many housed in a former church watch house. Start your day with one of their batch brews and signature pastries.

BERMONDSEY CORNER, BERMONDSEY STREET

Bag yourself a window seat and get stuck into a book or some people watching. And before you leave, be sure to pick up one of their hand selected wines for later

MALTBY STREET MARKET

This hidden gem has evolved into one of the capital’s most exciting destinations - an urban alleyway alive with sizzling grills, artisan produce, and global culinary flair.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

During the Industrial Revolution, Bermondsey went from a quiet, rural area to the centre of British manufacturing almost overnight. A hub for London's leather tanning, food processing, and shipping industries, iconic factories like Peek Freans, Hartley's and Christys & Co dominated the area.

Today, it's better known for its world-famous art galleries and moreish food scene; with glassblowing galleries on Bermondsey Street and cheesemakers in the infamous railway arches. However, that sense of bustling industry and eclectic culture is still very much alive.

ABU DHABI: BUILT FOR FAMILY LEGACY

INVESTOR STORY BRIEF | OCTOBER 2026

A concise guide for Nigerian families considering long-term UAE property ownership.

BUILD SOMETHING YOUR FAMILY CAN INHERIT.

FAMILY / LEGACY / LONG-TERM OWNERSHIP

Abu Dhabi offers family-focused living, culture and a dollar-linked currency. Prices have climbed sharply while yields remain modest, so the case rests on careful selection and long-term fit - not a promise of repeat growth.

THE INVESTOR SNAPSHOT

INDICATOR	LATEST READING	INVESTOR TAKEAWAY
Nigeria context	Official rate about ₦1,331.5/$ (6 Oct 2026); inflation 15.39% (Aug 2026).	The AED is pegged to the dollar, giving a dollar-linked asset - but currency can still move against naira.
Residential sales	H1 2026: AED 67.8bn, up 178% year on year; about 15,500 transactions. Q2 moderated.	Strong activity is a market signal, not a guarantee that the same pace will continue.
Price movement	Villas: +10% average; Yas +14.2%, Saadiyat +10.7%. Yas/Al Reem apartments: +18%; Saadiyat villas: AED 43,100/m², +21%.	Sharp gains raise the importance of entry price and comparable sales; do not extrapolate recent growth.
Off-plan & supply	About 83% of H1 transactions were off-plan (12,800). 36,900 units under construction to 2030: Yas 7,700; Fahid 3,550; Saadiyat 3,250.	Check developer delivery, escrow and downside scenarios against competing future supply.
Saadiyat yield	Gross yield often quoted at 3-4.5% (agent estimates; indicative).	Lifestyle and capital preservation lead; rental income is secondary and gross yield excludes costs.
Entry & residency	Registration fee reported at 2% in Abu Dhabi, plus fees. 10-year Golden Visa from AED 2m property, subject to current rules.	Confirm the full acquisition cost and eligibility. A Golden Visa is residency, not citizenship.

THREE ABU DHABI ADDRESSES

TALAY & TALAY BEACH | MARSA AL SAADIYAT

Positioned as Saadiyat's “last chapter” of waterfront living. 4-6 bedroom villas with private backyards on a 744 ha site with 8 km of waterfront and 129 ha of green space. Targets include 3 Pearl Estidama, 30%+ energy and 42% water reduction.

YAS RIVA RESERVE | YAS ISLAND

Aldar villa community with 292 homes (247 inland, 45 waterfront), 4-6 bedroom layouts averaging about 437-609 m². Target handover: Q3 2030. Check the live unit schedule, payment terms and delivery protections.

SEI SAADIYAT | SAADIYAT ISLAND

Wellness-led apartments shaped around stillness, nature and interiors, amid Saadiyat's art and architecture. A slower-living proposition rather than a high-yield thesis. Request the current unit schedule, pricing, service charges and handover details.

CHOOSE THE PROPERTY FOR THE RIGHT REASON

WHO IT MAY SUIT

Families planning across generations, buyers seeking a second home, and investors wanting dollar-linked exposure. Culture, beaches and family living are central to the proposition.

INCOME & MARKET REALITY

Indicative Saadiyat gross yields are 3-4.5% before costs. Prices have risen quickly, while 83% of H1 sales were off-plan and substantial supply is coming. Stress-test assumptions.

BEFORE YOU COMMIT

Verify developer registration, escrow, handover, payment plan, service charges and comparable sales. Confirm all purchase costs, Golden Visa eligibility and Nigerian tax obligations with qualified advisers.
